Donald E. Barnes

A graduate of Perkins School of Theology, Rev. Donald Barnes served United Methodist churches in Louisiana and Texas, and with his family he served as a missionary in Costa Rica and Chile and held numerous North Texas Conference and national leadership positions.

On retiring from the ministry in 1997, he enjoyed volunteering, continuing to serve the United Methodist Church in various capacities and traveling. Don was a loving, generous and always found the best in people.

Rev. Barnes was born June 18, 1930 in Monroe, Louisiana and passed away August 21, 2012 in Plano, Texas.

J. Edward Cherryholmes

Rev. Ed Cherryholmes was a loving husband, father, and grandfather and to many, a thoughtful and caring pastor and friend. He was a 1950 graduate of South High School in Columbus, Ohio, and graduated from Otterbein College in Westerville, Ohio, and United Seminary in Dayton, Ohio. He was a retired United Methodist minister, who for over 43 years, served churches in Ohio, Michigan, and Texas. His column, “Perspectives”, has appeared in various newspapers. Ed was also the author of “Eyewitness to History”, a book about the Kennedy assassination. He was an accomplished vocalist, and was active in drama, having appeared as Willy Loman in “Death of a Salesman”. He was an avid sports enthusiast, especially Ohio State football.

Rev. Cherryholmes was born July 25, 1931 in Columbus, Ohio and passed away January 17, 2013.

Charles V. Denman

Two months before his centennial birthday, Rev. Charles Denman passed away. He was reared as a Quaker, and held leadership positions in the Friends church prior to becoming a Methodist.

He was a native of Alda, Nebraska, and became a Dallas resident after graduating from SMU’s Perkins School of Theology. His undergraduate work was completed at Nebraska Central College where he played football—not very well, he would say. After undergraduate school, he worked both as a teacher and a social worker.

Following his ordination as a Methodist minister he held two associate posts before founding Walnut Hill United Methodist Church in Dallas, a church in which he remained active after his retirement. Throughout his career, Rev. Denman also held Senior Minister posts with Wesley United Methodist Church, Plymouth Park United Methodist Church and St. Luke’s United Methodist Church.

Combining his interest in social work and the ministry, he and several other ministers went to Chicago with change in their pockets to experience life on the streets. This weeklong experience as a homeless person galvanized his commitment to helping the disadvantaged. In retirement, Reverend Denman was a tireless volunteer, giving his time to North Texas Shared Ministries, Scottish Rite Hospital and many other organizations.

He met his wife of 65 years, Kathleen Morris Denman, at a Christian camp at which they were both counselors. True love ensued. Charles will be remembered for his sense of humor, his art, his love of family and friends and his love of Christ.

Rev. Denman was born on March 20, 1913, and passed away January 9, 2013.

John Thomas Graves

Rev. Tom Graves was born in Marked Tree, Arkansas, but spent most of his life as a Texan. He was a graduate of Weatherford High School, Texas Wesleyan College, Perkins School of Theology, and University of Edinburgh. He received an honorary Doctor of Divinity from Southwestern University of Georgetown, Texas, in 1979. Rev. Graves served the North and Central Texas Conferences of the United Methodist Church for more than 50 years. He pastored several congregations and also served as District Superintendent of the Sherman-McKinney District. In 2010, he received the Medallion of Merit, Texas Methodist Foundation's highest award.

During the last ten years, Rev. Graves wrote a series of books reflecting on his life experiences in ministry. Rev. Graves was born December 16, 1933, and passed away August 22, 2012.

Edgar L. Huffstutler

Edgar L. Huffstutler was born in a Methodist parsonage in Denison, Texas the third son of Tracy and Monta Huffstutler. Later Tracy was appointed to Commerce where their three sons graduated from the local college. Edgar went on to the School of Theology at SMU, graduating in 1942 with a B.D. and M.A. He was popular in youth activities and was selected for three years as president of the North Texas Youth Organization---and also one year of the Missouri Conference Youth Organization. He was also appointed as one of the first youth as member of the General Conference Board of Education and was a member of the Youth Commission that created the Methodist Youth Fellowship from the Epworth League, the Youth Department and the Christian Endeavor of the newly formed Methodist Church. Edgar's first appointment was Paris, Missouri, where he met and married his wife Dorothy.

As associate minister in Alabama and then back to the North Texas Conference, he served 49 years as Deacon and Elder, retiring in 1990. In Conference relationship, he was chairman of the later Minimum Salary Commission and chairman of the Board of Evangelism. He was able to enroll two towns in United Way and started the Southeast Dallas Food Pantry. Rev. Huffstutler was a member of five different Rotary Clubs and president of two, as well as two different Lions Clubs and president of one. On retiring he moved to Palo Alto, California, to be with family and when he died he was survived by a son and a daughter as well as his wife, Dorothy.

Rev. Huffstutler was born on October 8, 1920, and passed away April 8, 2103.

Larry D. Ravert

Rev. Lawrence Douglas Ravert started his more than half-century spiritual journey with the Methodist Church on a Sunday bus ride in San Antonio. He was stationed there with the Air Force and hopped a bus to town in search of Presbyterian services. A fellow passenger didn't know where a Presbyterian church was but invited him to her Methodist church. That Sunday experience put him on a path to be a Methodist minister and serve as senior pastor at churches in North Texas.

The bus passenger's invitation "totally changed his life and changed the lives of thousands of people," said Rev. Ravert's wife, Carol Ann Ravert of Dallas. "At the time he graduated from high school, he wasn't even planning to go to college." The bus passenger—whom he never saw again—introduced him to the youth group at what is now Travis Park United Methodist Church in San Antonio. He and his wife-to-be—then Carol Ann Griffith—were active in the youth group.

After completing his military service, Rev. Ravert stayed in San Antonio, where he earned a bachelor's degree at Trinity University. He attended seminary at Southern Methodist University's Perkins School of Theology in Dallas. He commuted to Perkins in Dallas from the couple's home in Savoy, his base for maintaining a circuit of Methodist churches in Savoy, Marvin and Virginia Point.

Rev. Ravert spent a total of 18 years with various supportive ministries, including as an associate pastor and minister of Christian education in Victoria, and as youth director and associate pastor of White Rock United Methodist Church in Dallas—before becoming a senior pastor at Lakewood United Methodist Church in Dallas. After two years at Lakewood, Rev. Ravert joined the staff of the North Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church. He bought land for new churches, including Custer Road United Methodist Church in Plano.

After five years on the North Texas Conference staff, Rev. Ravert returned to direct pastoral work as executive minister for the First United Methodist Church of Dallas. In 1986, he had the first of several appointments as senior pastor of Axe Memorial United Methodist Church in Garland, at Wesley United Methodist Church in Greenville and the First United Methodist Churches in Duncanville and Heath. In retirement, he served part-time at University Park United Methodist Church.

He was a 33rd-degree Mason and had served as chaplain for the Grand Lodge of Texas, the York Rite of Texas and the Hella Temple Shrine. He also was a member of the Dallas Model "A" Ford Club.

Rev. Ravert was born on January 10, 1933, and passed away June 15, 2012.

William B. Slack

On November 6th, 2012 Rev. William B. Slack Jr. received a promotion after 87 years of service to the Lord. Despite being born during the great depression, Rev. Slack lived a bountiful life. He fought his way through the dust bowl days of Oklahoma and later the jungles of the Philippines.

After returning from the war he enrolled at SMU where his charisma and flare for the dramatic led him to pursue a degree in theater. He is still remembered for the pigskin reviews that he and buddy Aaron Spelling created and performed. It was at SMU that he met and married his partner in life Gloria Thornton. They remained married for over 60 years until her passing in 2011.

After college, Rev. Slack worked in both local radio and theatre but his talent and love of acting ultimately took him to Hollywood where he found roles in both film and television. Despite his success, a deeper calling to ministry could not be ignored. He returned to SMU in 1957 and ultimately graduated from Perkins School of Theology. Over the next 40 years, he and his wife faithfully served Texas Methodists from Chico to Highland Park. In the pulpit, he combined his command of the written word with his skill as a storyteller to craft messages that were both captivating and inspiring. Out of the pulpit, he was known as a people person.

Approachable and affable, he provided comfort and guidance to many throughout his life and ministry. He was a great preacher, a great friend, a great husband, a great brother and a great father.

Well done my good and faithful servant, well done.

Rev. Slack was born on October 23, 1925, and passed away November 6, 2012.

She married James E. Connatser, Jr., and together they raised a family of four children. She worked for several colleges including SMU, Austin College, and Collin County Community College. But she considered her life's work to be in serving as a minister's wife.

She served in several churches in North Texas, including churches in Dallas, Allen, Cedar Hill and Denison. After she was widowed in 1990, she became a member of First United Methodist Church in Allen, and devoted herself to various organizations there. She was very active in her Sunday School class and United Methodist Women, was on the Executive Committee, a founding member of XYZ, a ministry to senior adults, as well as an angel to that group. She was a delegate to the North Texas Annual Conference for many decades, and enjoyed her visits to the Holy Lands, Emmaus and many mission trips.

Betty loved life and thrived on keeping busy. Year after year, she orchestrated Easter and Nativity scenes with homemade costumes and populated by sheep and donkeys from surrounding farms. She marshaled UNICEF drives, oversaw graduation ceremonies and a myriad of other crowd activities.

She was passionate about her family and loved to dote on her grandchildren. Her family will always remember her growing up on a cotton farm and the memory of her voice singing, "Amazing Grace" and "Blessed Assurance" as she went about her daily duties.

Mary Hickox Jameson

The angels smiled as they greeted Mary Jameson as she arrived in her heavenly home. She was flashing her beautiful smile and singing her favorite hymns. Reunited with the love of her life, Ashley, she recited poetry, reminisced, and even told a joke or two. Born in Mammoth Springs, Arkansas to Bill and Pearle Hickox, she brought energy, intelligence and class to every occasion.

Mary graduated from Arkansas State University in 1939 with a B.A. in English and, as an accomplished pianist, performed in many campus and community productions. She taught high school for several years before becoming an Officer Training School instructor for the U.S. Air Force. She married Major Ashley D. Jameson in December of 1952 and became mother to an instant family of four children, Dirk, Jana, Lynniss, and Kadi, loving each one dearly while guiding them through childhood to successful lives. Life with an Air Force chaplain meant frequent moves, a variety of volunteer activities, and chance of a lifetime experiences. As the Air Force moved her family, she skirted Typhoons, slept on Ice Island above the Arctic Circle, and stretched out beside the boom operator on a KC-135 tanker while refueling F-15 fighter aircraft over the North Atlantic. Mary flew across Alaska and the lower states with her pilot husband, and entertained Air Force and church officials with flair and grace. She directed chapel choirs and organized efforts to support young Air Force families. She camped the Alaskan Highway, loved the beaches of Guam and Hawaii, sampled the culture of Japan, Great Britain, and Mexico, and was an early adopter of "Keep Austin Weird."

She reveled in her many friends, her six grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren. Known to all as Grand Mary, she followed their progress by all the latest means--Skype, iPhone, iPad, and laptop. She had a special place in her heart for her daughter-in-law Betty Jameson and her three sons-in-law, John Nave, Jim Wills, and Larry Hamel. She kept up with their many interests and graciously accepted their loving assistance. Mary was blessed with a loyal and loving assistant, Marilou and a majestic Maine Coon cat, Cecil. They brought pleasure and comfort to her every day. Mary Jameson lived large, loved deeply, and touched the lives of so many. Her great strength, heart, wit, and intellect are sorely missed.

Mary Jameson was born August 19, 1918, and passed away June 6, 2012.

Dee Shipp McAdams

Dee Shipp McAdams passed away in New Braunfels, Texas at the age of 91 on April 15, 2013. Dee was extremely blessed and lived an enriched life surrounded by family, friends and church. Dee was born in Dardanelle, Arkansas, on May 3, 1921. She graduated from Byrd High School in Shreveport, Louisiana but lived the majority of her childhood in Little Rock, Arkansas.

Dee's life dramatically changed when she met Thomas J. Shipp in 1940. They quickly fell in love and married on February 1, 1941 in Little Rock, Arkansas. Dee and Tom moved to Dallas shortly after they married, so Tom could attend SMU Perkins School of Theology and complete his education. Dee became part of the Dallas Lovers Lane Methodist Church family when Tom was appointed pastor of the church on October 28, 1945.

Dee always stated that her job was to "stand behind Tom and be there for him in the church." She served as his "first lady" of the church during Tom's 32 years as Pastor. Countless committee meetings, new member receptions, staff parties and youth activities were held in their home. As the church grew, so did Tom and Dee's family. They were blessed with two children, Tommy and Judy. Dee was always by Tom's side, but unfortunately, he passed away suddenly on July 21, 1977.

After Tom's passing, Dee married a wonderful man, Bill Fursman, on September 11, 1981. They lived in Flower Mound, TX, and Dee enjoyed a different type of life. Her relaxing, country lifestyle allowed her to ride horses with Bill, plant a garden and have a donkey named, Checkers. Adding three grown step-daughters and sons-in-law to Dee's family thrilled her. Dee and Bill enjoyed life together until Bill's passing two short years after their marriage.

Amazingly, Dee once again found love and married Jack McAdams in June of 1987. Dee and Jack enjoyed their blended families, traveling, watching Maverick basketball games and Cowboy football, dining with friends, attending the Dallas Summer Musicals and Symphony Balls. Luckily, they enjoyed many years together before Jack passed away in 2010 at the age of 91.

Dee took pleasure in sewing, playing bridge, all types of arts and crafts, riding horses, traveling, spending time with friends and family, serving the community and spoiling her grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

She was a member of the Dallas Symphony and Dallas Opera Board. Dee was honored with the Dr. Daniel Poling award in 1991 for "outstanding contribution and service to Allied Youth International Board," an alcohol and drug abuse program for youth. In 1994, she was presented the Heritage Award from Lovers Lane Methodist Church.

Born on May 3, 1921, Dee Shipp McAdams passed away on April 15, 2013.

Debbie Zinser

Deborah Dixon Zinser went peacefully to be with her Lord and Savior on June 21, 2012. Debbie was a radiant Christian woman loved by friends and family. She was born on September 23, 1950, to Olin Edward Dixon and Geneva Parkerson Dixon in Dallas. Debbie graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School in 1968. She made her home in Flower Mound.

Debbie enjoyed leading Bible studies and comforting others living with breast cancer. She faithfully served alongside her husband, Joe, in ministry. She will be dearly missed by her Monday Morning Bible Study Buddies who met weekly at Debbie's home for almost 12 years.
